Plastics and Rubber Processing and Applications 7 (1987) 258–259

CONTENTS OF VOLUME 7

Number 1

Editorial 1
Multiple live-feed injection moulding 3–10
P. S. ALLAN and M. J. BEVIS (Great Britain)
Rheological behaviour and extrudate morphology of thermoplastic elastomers from natural rubber and high density polyethylene 11–18
SANIA AKHTAR, BABY KURIAKOSE, PRAJNA P. DE and SADHAN K. DE (India)
RRIM: Rheology of glass-filled polyol slurries and polymeric isocyanate reagents 19–28
P. D. COATES, A. I. SIVAKUMAR and A. F. JOHNSON (Great Britain)
The application of the cavity transfer mixer in injection moulding. Part 1: Analysis of machine performance 29–41
S. Y. LIN and M. J. BEVIS (Great Britain)
Studies on the milling behaviour of rubber blends 43–50
T. K. BHAUMIK, A. K. BHOWMICK and B. R. GUPTA (India)
Temperature derating of unplasticised polyvinyl chloride (uPVC) pressure pipe . 51–56
R. W. TRUSS (Australia)
Book Review 57
Forthcoming meetings 58–64

Number 2

Editorial 65
The application of acoustic surface waves to the characterisation of polymers . 67–76
G. D. DEAN (Great Britain)
The physical aging of rigid PVC at temperatures above T_g 77–83
L. C. E. STRUIK (The Netherlands)
The formation and removal of gas bubbles in a rotational moulding grade of PE . 85–99
R. J. CRAWFORD and J. A. SCOTT (Northern Ireland)
Prediction of elastomer flow in multi-cavity injection moulding 101–110
S. BOWERS (Great Britain)
A novel method of measuring cure — dielectric vulcametry 111–125
STURE PERSSON (Sweden)
Book Review 127
Forthcoming meetings 128–134

Number 3

Editorial 135
Elastomers as biomaterials 137–142
C. H. BAMFORD and I. P. MIDDLETON (Great Britain)
Differences between the effects of annealing and physical ageing on the mechanical behaviour of polycarbonate 143–147
JEAN-CLAUDE BAUWENS (Belgium)
Design aspects of fatigue in ABS injection moulding 149–154
J. A. M. REMMERSWAAL (The Netherlands)

Plastics and Rubber Processing and Applications (7) (1987) © The Plastics and Rubber Institute, England, 1987
Printed in Great Britain

Non-isothermal polymer flow from viscometer reservoir to capillary die . . 155–161
C. TZOGANAKIS, J. VLACHOPOULOS and A. E. HAMIELEC (Canada)
Influence of molecular weight on fracture toughness and fractography of glassy polymers 163–171
R. GRECO and G. RAGOSTA (Italy)
Mixing of carbon black with rubber: IV. Effect of carbon black characteristics . 173–178
GEORGE R. COTTEN (USA)
The influence of extrusion conditions on the burning and smoke characteristics of polypropylene film 179–183
R. McILHAGGER and B. J. HILL (Northern Ireland)
The effect of processing temperature on the impact strength of PVC blended with a particulate acrylic modifier 185–188
W. J. McGILL and T. WITTSTOCK (South Africa)
Book Review 189
Announcement 190
Forthcoming meetings 191–195

Number 4

Editorial 197
Modelling of the cure of epoxide resin: effect of the diameter of cylindrical moulds 199–205
M. CHATER, J. BOUZON and J. M. VERGNAUD (France)
Dependence of the strength and structure of expanded polystyrene on processing in the block moulding method 207–214
JUHA SARLIN, PENTTI JÄRVELÄ, PIRKKO JÄRVELÄ and PERTTI TÖRMÄLÄ (Finland)
Mechanical properties of oriented polypropylene 215–219
B. T. POH (Malaysia)
The effect of cold rolling on the formability of polymers 221–228
Y. W. LEE, N. N. S. CHEN and P. I. F. NIEM (Hong Kong)
A study of SBR/PVC blends: 2. Rheological behaviour 229–235
ZHOU PU and SUN ZAIJIAN (People's Republic of China)

Short Communications

Flow and mixing phenomena in a co-rotating intermeshing twin-screw extruder . 237–240
P. R. HORNSBY (Great Britain)
Relationship between micromorphology and local impact strength in injection moulded polypropylene artefacts 241–242
M. W. MURPHY, K. THOMAS and M. J. BEVIS (Great Britain)
Effects of polycondensation catalyst and stretching on the electric properties of polyethylene terephthalate films 243–246
XIAN ZHANG, SHUQUAN LIU, JIAYU GUAN and MAO XU (China)
The influence of butyl rubber type on some properties of vulcanized inner tubes. 247–249
BOLESŁAW JURKOWSKI and STANISŁAW ROZWADOWSKI (Poland)
Book Reviews 251–252
Forthcoming meetings 253–257
